Thanks for the detailed response to my inquiry. We appreciate the fact that you have made this a priority for your squad. As we on [redacted] see it from an operational standpoint - there are two issues when deciding how to proceed that you also identified:

The cost involved with [redacted]
The ability of the [redacted] to [redacted]

Checking with [redacted] we have found that the [redacted] could cost between [redacted] per month to [redacted] (maybe less). After reviewing your email, it appears we would need all [redacted] to start with because of the random nature of the [redacted]. We also know that not all charges are passed on to the operational squads but worst case scenario would be [redacted] per month to [redacted] lines.

b2
b6
b7C
b7E

We have approximately [redacted] of interest out of the [redacted] at the establishment. If there was some way the [redacted] could look at the [redacted] we (on the operational squad) would be supportive of that.

The bottom line is [redacted] would support going ahead and ordering the [redacted]. We could always cancel [redacted] if the benefits of the [redacted] was low. We would need the approval of [redacted] and SAC [redacted] before we committed the squad to this potential cost.

(S) [redacted] Please review the enclosed email from [redacted] which describes the problems we have in trying to monitor [redacted]. [redacted] will send you another email exchange that describes the problems the [redacted] may have in trying to "select" our [redacted]. Thanks again for the attention.

been working for close to three years to get this one done- you would not want to do that.

As I have told many of you already - Some of this will not be fun. The installation alone is challenging. It involves

[Redacted]

So how are we going to field this little treasure? A general outline of the process is laid out in the attached Implementation Plan - though the timetables are not date specific but based on a X+ day calendar. Actually we have already begun. After developing the configuration settings, we developed a set of procedures them as efficiently as possible.

[Redacted]

Taking what we learned from these installs, we are currently modifying some of the procedures, and believe that we can further streamline the process.

[Redacted]

How will this impact the system and the users? Functionally, this should have no effect on the system. As I said, exhaustive testing has been performed to insure that these changes do not affect system operation. But again, the real world always finds a surprise for us all. For the users- here's where it will get interesting. You tell a machine to do something once - it does it... users take a little more.

[Redacted]

For the system support personnel; You - the "Privileged Users" - you all probably know

[Redacted]

[Redacted]

will get betterI hope. I believe. Yes, it will get better, it will get better, it will get better....

To help you understand the whole process - or to totally confuse and frustrate you, I am attaching some of the more pertinent documents from the accreditation package. Among these are the System Security Plan (SSP), Implementation Plan, the Privileged Users Guide and the General Users Guide. These are advance copies - and most likely will change. The SSP for example - we have received an errata sheet from SecD recommending 40 changes - mostly minor changes to the SSP. They are fond of reminding us that the SSP is a 'living document' I think that means they can recommend changes anytime they want to. Anyway, as changes are incorporated, we will release newer versions. I will try to advise you of the relevant change's impact - so you don't have to do what we do --- search the document and try to figure out if they were reading the proper version --- I hope that didn't sound sarcastic...or ... well.....

Yeah - we'll send you the updates.

Finally, a personal? note - This Friday is my last day in TICTU. And I can just hear you all now --- and you're right - this would be incredible - almost divine timing - to get away from this DCS 5000 security just-as it's getting ready to be fielded. Like winning the lottery . But the gods have chosen to be so kind that though I am moving to ETMU, I will continue to oversee the deployment of the DCS 5000 security configuration package. How can one man be so lucky?

I'd say that I hope to hear from you all or that you should fell free to call or email if you have any questions - but somehow I don't think I need to say anything - something tells me that I'll be hearing from y'all - that you ALL.
